From Our Minister of Music and Family Ministries

As Mother's Day approaches, we each may be viewing it differently. Some of us may be trying to find the perfect gifts to show our mothers how much we appreciate them. Others may be reminiscing on the fond memories they have of their mothers. Some may be looking at the church bulletin and realizing it's Mother's Day and thinking of a quick way to save themselves.

Since my mother has passed away, I will spend the day with adopted parents while remembering her. I have so many memories of my mom: Memories of crazy ideas that I had to go along with because I was her son; memories of things she tried to teach me that I didn't want to learn. However, out of everything she tried to teach me verbally, I believe I learned the most by her actions. As I think about my mom, I can't help but think of the song "Legacy" by Nicole Nordeman.

(Chorus to Legacy)

I want to leave a legacy, How will they remember me?
Did I choose to love? Did I point to You enough?
To make a mark on things I want to leave an offering
A child of mercy and grace
Who blessed Your name unapologetically
And leave that kind of legacy.

You see, my mother didn't just teach me about God and His love, she modeled it for me. Without a doubt, I can look back at the many times she was an example of what I should be. One of the greatest lessons I learned from her was her love for people. No matter their economic status, race, gender, or education level, she treated them the same. This was always evident to me by the people who came by to visit her at her store. She took time to make each one of them feel important or special. She was always willing to demonstrate the love of God to them no matter the circumstance.

In no way am I trying to put my mother on a pedestal. She would admit that she was not perfect and was a sinner saved by grace. My intention is to share with you that in all the imperfect things my mother did, her love for Christ and love for others abundantly overshadowed all those things. That is the legacy she left me.

What type of legacy are you leaving the young people in your life? You influence more by your actions and your way of life than you do by what you say. Are you leaving the legacy of gossiping, selfishness, or worldly desires? Or are you leaving the legacy of love, humility, and putting Christ first in their life?
